

Association of Schools of Public Health/Pfizer Young Investigator's Research Award

Grantor: Association of Schools of Public Health/Pfizer

Closes: 7/31/2009

Maximum: $10,000.00

Association of Schools of Public Health/Pfizer Young Investigator's Research Award

This new national award will recognize a single, outstanding research paper that was published in 2008 by a full-time, young investigator, faculty member from a full ASPH-member, accredited school of public health. The research presented in the paper must have promising implications for improving population health. The paper should be accompanied by a brief letter (1-2 pages) describing why it is deemed worthy of the award. The letter should be written by an expert in the field the article addresses, but cannot be written by a co-author of the article.

$10,000 cash prize

Nominations are due by 5 p.m. Eastern on Friday, July 31, 2009 to jschumacher@asph.org.

Eligibility

Nominees must be full-time faculty members at the level of either Assistant or Associate Professor from full ASPH-member, CEPH-accredited schools of public health.

Association of Schools of Public Health

1101 15th Street NW, Suite 910

Washington, DC 20005

Tel: (202) 296-1099

Fax: (202) 296-1252

Link: <http://www.asph.org/document.cfm?page=1078>

Categories: Academia, Academic Medicine, Career Development, Epidemiological Studies, Essay Award, Medical Education, Medical Faculty, Medical Schools, Preventive Medicine, Public Health, Scientific Importance/Achievement, Scientific Publication

Audience: Academic, Allied Health Professional, Epidemiologist, Established Investigator, Health Services Researcher, Junior Faculty, Junior Investigator, Junior Researcher, Junior Scientist, Medical School Faculty, New Investigator, New Researcher, Policy Analyst, Public Health Expert, Young Investigator, Young Scientist