

Annette U. Rickel Dissertation Award

Grantor: American Psychological Foundation

Closes: 11/1/2010

Maximum: $1,000.00

Annette U. Rickel Dissertation Award

This award supports dissertation research on public policy, which has the potential to improve services for children and families facing psychosocial issues.

Deadline: November 1, 2010

Sponsor: American Psychological Foundation

Description

Examples of eligible topics include but are not limited to issues with at-risk populations, prevention of child abuse, services for youth in the criminal justice system, effectiveness of school programs for children with psychological issues, using psychology in public policy to improve math and science education, and promoting healthy parenting.

The scholarship amount is $1,000.

Applicants must be graduate students in psychology enrolled full time and in good standing in a graduate program in psychology at a regionally accredited university or college located in the United States or Canada. Applicants must also have:

- * Approval of dissertation proposal by the dissertation committee prior to application;
- * No record of having received either an APA or APF dissertation award

APF encourages applications from individuals who represent diversity in race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, and sexual orientation.

American Psychological Association
750 First Street NE,
Washington, DC 20002-4242

Telephone: 800-374-2721; 202-336-5500. TDD/TTY: 202-336-6123

Link: <http://www.apa.org/apf/funding/rickel.aspx>

Categories: At-Risk Populations, Behavioral Research , Child Abuse, Child Psychology, Domestic Violence , Health Policy, Health Services Research, Pediatric Psychology, Psychology, Public Health, Public Policy, Scholarships,

Underserved Populations, Violence Prevention, Youth

Audience: Doctoral Student, Psychology Student