Protein Science Young Investigator Travel Grants and Finn Wold Travel Awards for Postdocs, Graduate Students, Junior Faculty and Under-Represented Minority Scientists

The Protein Society is pleased to offer the Protein Science Young Investigator Travel Grants and the Finn Wold Travel Awards to eligible applicants.

The deadline for submitting an application for the 2010 Travel Award Program is April 14, 2010.

Protein Science Young Investigator Travel Grant Program ***

The Protein Society has partnered with Wiley-Blackwell to publish the Society's monthly flagship journal, Protein Science beginning January 2009. In support of The Protein Society's efforts to facilitate the participation of young scientists at its symposia, Wiley-Blackwell has generously sponsored the Protein Science Young Investigator Travel Grant Program.

Finn Wold Travel Award Program***

Finn Wold was one of the founders and early Presidents of The Protein Society. He was a very creative individual who was very supportive of students. In 1997, The Protein Society named the student travel awards in his honor. The Finn Wold Travel Award program is supported by generous contributors to the Finn Wold Travel Award Fund.

*Eligible applicants will be considered for a single travel award.
