

American Psychological Association of Graduate Students LGBT Dissertation Scholarship

Grantor: American Psychological Association of Graduate Students

Closes: 5/13/2011

Maximum: $1,500.00

American Psychological Association of Graduate Students LGBT Dissertation Scholarship

This scholarship was established to encourage outstanding research in the area of LGBT concerns.

Deadline: May 13, 2011

This scholarship will be awarded to a student who demonstrates outstanding promise as a researcher as evidenced by a research proposal addressing the unique concerns facing LGBT individuals. Funds for the $1,500 scholarship must be used to support proposed research, rather than to reward a completed, or nearly completed dissertation.

APAGS scholarships are available to graduate student members of APAGS who are enrolled at least halftime as a student in good standing at a regionally accredited university. If you are a student affiliate of APA and are in a masters or doctoral program, you are automatically a member of APAGS. Undergraduates are not eligible for these scholarships, nor are APAGS officers, subcommittee, or task force chairs. Previous recipients of each award are not eligible to apply again for a period of five years.

Required materials:

Title page that includes name of the scholarship for which you are applying, contact information for applicant (name, mailing address, phone number, email), university, area of research, expected graduation date, APA Membership number, and full name/email of your research mentor for your project.

A cover letter (not to exceed two pages, single spaced) that includes background information about the applicant, the dissertation, why the applicant believes s/he should be awarded the scholarship (e.g. relevance of the project to the grant), and the applicant's future educational and professional goals.

An abbreviated curriculum vitae (not to exceed two pages, single spaced).

An abbreviated research proposal (not to exceed three pages, single spaced) that includes specific aims, background and significance, proposed research methodology, implications of proposed research, and detailed budget.

Letter of recommendation (not to exceed two pages, single spaced) supporting your application that addresses your qualifications, how your project will benefit the discipline, and the likelihood that your research will help you meet your future educational and professional goals.

All materials must be submitted for an application to be considered. Any applications that exceed the page limits (e.g. over two pages in a vita, over 3 pages in a proposal, over two pages for a letter of recommendation) will not be scored.

If you are not an APAGS member at the time of submission, you may send a copy of the receipt you get when you join APAGS/APA electronically as proof of membership.

You may submit materials electronically or by mail.

For mail submissions, please send to:

APAGS-LGBT Dissertation Scholarship
American Psychological Association of Graduate Students
750 First St. NE
Washington, DC 20002-4242

Link: <http://www.apa.org/about/awards/apags-lgbt.aspx>

Categories: Academia, Behavioral Research , Diversity/Underrepresented Minorities, Gay and Lesbian Issues, Psychology, Scientific Importance/Achievement

Audience: Doctoral Student, Graduate Student, Psychology Student