Travel Fellowships for the 8th Cajal Winter Conference: Neural Plasticity Mechanisms in CNS Diseases

8th Cajal Winter Conference "Neural plasticity mechanisms in CNS diseases"

March 19-23, 2012 Benasque, Huesca (Spain)

Travel fellowships

An important task of the Sociedad Española de NeuroCiencia (SENC) is to help young scientists to attend Neuroscience meetings and present their communications. SENC offers travel awards to PhD students and recent postdocs (less than 3 yr after PhD dissertation) to partly cover travel and accommodation expenses. Fellowships of 200 € will be awarded. Applicants should download the CV form from the CWC website and, once filled, upload it before February 15, 2012. Applicants are encouraged to present their communications in oral form.

You will not be able to upload your application if you didn't complete meeting registration previously.
