

Call for Nominations: American Psychological Association Science Directorate Master Lecturers Program

Grantor: American Psychological Association Science Directorate

Closes: 2/17/2012

Maximum: $1,500.00

Call for Nominations: American Psychological Association Science Directorate Master Lecturers Program

This APA Science Directorate program supports up to five psychological scientists to speak at the APA Annual Convention.

The APA Board of Scientific Affairs (BSA) is currently soliciting nominations for speakers for the 2013 Master Lecturers Program.

Deadline: February 17, 2012

Sponsor: Board of Scientific Affairs

The Master Lecture Program, developed by the Board of Scientific Affairs, supports up to five (5) psychological scientists to speak at the APA Annual Convention. BSA has organized the lectures into ten core areas that reflect the field. Each year, five of these areas are addressed by Master Lecturers. Speakers for the 2013 Convention, to be held in Honolulu, Hawaii, July 31-August 4 will be chosen to have expertise in each of the following areas:

Applied Psychology

Biopsychology

Cognition and Perception

Health Psychology and Behavioral Medicine

Personality and Individual Differences

Selected speakers receive an honorarium of $500 and up to $1,000 reimbursement for travel expenses.

Please send in the name of your nominee(s) by email or fax to:

Rachel Martin

APA Science Directorate

750 First Street, N.E.

Washington, DC. 20002-4242

Fax: 202-336-5953

Nominations must be received by February 17, 2012.

Link: <http://www.apa.org/about/awards/bsa-masters.aspx>