Donald G. and Darel Stein Fellowship: Promoting the Study of Sex Differences in Neuroscience

The Society for Women's Health Research (SWHR) is pleased to announce a new travel award opportunity for a student studying sex differences in neuroscience. This award is sponsored by Donald G. and Darel Stein in memory of Anne Hammer. The award is to be used for expenses associated with attendance at a scientific meeting where the student is presenting a poster. Proposed projects must advance the understanding of sex differences in neuroscience from the prospective of laboratory research, health promotion, health education, or health policy. Up to four awards will be funded each cycle.

Application Deadline: March 1, 2012

Award Recipients Will Receive:

$1,000 reimbursement (travel, hotel, food, registration) for expenses associated with attendance at a scientific meeting in 2012.

Recognition on SWHR's website as an annual recipient of the Donald G. and Darel Stein Fellowship.

Fellowship certificate of completion.

Applicants Must:

Be enrolled as a full time student (9 credit hours or more) in an accredited Bachelors, Masters, or Doctoral degree program in neuroscience, or be an MD in residency,

Describe their research and how it will advance the understanding of sex differences in neuroscience,

Submit a letter from their advisor validating their commitment to the project,

Agree to use the travel award to attend a meeting in 2012 where they will present a poster on their original research,

Submit their poster abstract (when accepted) and final poster (prior to meeting date) to SWHR,

Include the SWHR logo and acknowledge support from SWHR and the Donald G. and Darel Stein Fellowship on their poster.
