

American Association of Neuromuscular & Electrodiagnostic Medicine Golseth Young Investigator Award

Grantor: American Association of Neuromuscular & Electrodiagnostic Medicine

Closes: 3/15/2012

Maximum: $2,000.00

American Association of Neuromuscular & Electrodiagnostic Medicine Golseth Young Investigator Award

The Golseth Young Investigator Award, honoring AANEM Founding Member, Dr. James Golseth, is presented annually for original research in neuromuscular and electrodiagnostic medicine. The Foundation has been funding the award since 1998.

Deadline for Submissions is March 15, 2012.

Award subject and criteria:

The award is given for original research on neuromuscular and electrodiagnostic medicine. The research is judged based on:

Scientific merit

Methodology

Manuscript form

Candidate's contribution to the project

Additional criteria

The first author of the research project must be one of the following:

Medical student in an MD, DO, DVM, or foreign equivalent program

Resident

Fellow-in-training

Physician within 3 years following completion for residency or fellowship training

The following publication criteria also exists for the Golseth Award:

Manuscript must be offered to the editor of the Muscle & Nerve for first review.

Manuscript must follow Muscle & Nerve author guidelines and be concise (text no longer than 2500 words).

Submission Guidelines:

All of the following must be received in the AANEM Executive Office on disc or by email at meeting@aanem.org by March 15, 2012 to be considered.

Manuscript with text no longer than 2500 words, figures and references

Letter from program director certifying eligibility

Letter from candidate describing his/her specific percentage of contribution to project

The Golseth Young Investigator Award winner receives:

Round trip coach airfare up to $500 (U.S./Canada) or $1000 (international)

Hotel accommodations (up to maximum of 4 nights)

$1000 cash

Free AANEM Annual Meeting registration

20-minute time slot to present research at the AANEM Annual Meeting

Abstract published in Muscle & Nerve and Clinical Neurophysiology

For more information on this award, contact meeting@aanem.org.

Link: <http://www.aanemfoundation.org/Awards/Golseth-Award.aspx>