

Call for Nominations: 2012 Taubman Prize For Excellence in Translational Medical Science

Grantor: A. Alfred Taubman Medical Research Institute at the University of Michigan

Closes: 4/1/2012

Maximum: $100,000.00

Call for Nominations: 2012 Taubman Prize For Excellence in Translational Medical Science

This award is presented annually by the A. Alfred Taubman Medical Research Institute at the University of Michigan. It is meant to recognize work in the crucial field of translational research being conducted by the clinician-scientist who has done the most to transform laboratory discoveries into clinical applications for patients suffering from disease.

Prize: $100,000

Eligibility: International scientists are eligible.

U-M scientists are excluded.

Self-nomination is permitted.

Judging Criteria:

Significant contribution to translating basic research findings into medical practice

The manner in which nominee's clinical activities connects to his or her laboratory research

Deadline: April 1, 2012

Announcement of Winner: At the annual Taubman Institute Symposium in October 2012. The winner will be asked to serve as the keynote speaker at that event.

Nomination Guidelines

For a nomination to be considered by the selection committee, the following items must be submitted with the completed nomination form:

A letter of nomination detailing the individual's extraordinary or sustained contribution to

The curriculum vitae of the nominee

A bibliography of significant publications

Two additional letters of support

Electronic submissions are encouraged. Incomplete nominations will not be presented to the nomination committee. The deadline for receiving nominations is April 1, 2012.

If you have any questions, please email them to TaubmanInstitute@umich.edu or call Dr. Stacey Sakowski at (734)763-8284.

Link: <http://www.taubmaninstitute.org/programs/2012-taubman-prize>