American Academy of Dermatology Annual Meeting Poster Exhibit Scholarship Program

In an effort to encourage the participation of young dermatologists from developing countries (as defined by the World Bank), the American Academy of Dermatology is pleased to offer a limited number of scholarships for attendance at its Annual Meeting.

Scholarships include complimentary meeting registration and registration to a one- or two-day post-graduate course of the recipient's choice (subject to availability of space in the course) at the Academy's meeting; and an allowance for hotel and other expenses. The allowance will be delivered to successful applicants upon their arrival at the meeting.

More than 30 international dermatologists received an Annual Meeting Poster Exhibit scholarship in 2011.

Apply Applicants must be dermatologists from developing countries who are within three years of completion of their dermatology residency training at the time of the meeting.

Each recipients must be endorsed by his or her national dermatologic society. Only two applicants will be considered from each country. All applicants must submit a poster abstract.

Recipients will be expected to make and pay for their own travel and housing arrangements. An individual is eligible for this scholarship only one time during his or her career.

Applications for the 2013 Annual Meeting will be accepted through the 31st of July 2012.
