American Academy of Dermatology International Society Annual Meeting Travel Grant

Through mutual arrangements with several international dermatological societies, a number of travel grants are available for U.S. and Canadian residents, fellows or young dermatologists (within five years of completing residency) to attend these societies' annual meetings.

This is a wonderful opportunity for the successful applicants to meet foreign colleagues and possibly establish long-lasting professional relationships. Past attendees have been uniformly appreciative of the chance to go to these meetings.

Each program may only submit two applicants for the scholarships and only one applicant per international meeting. Applicants must have completed at least one year of training by the time of the meeting.

Individuals are eligible for either scholarship only one time during their careers.

Applicants will need to attach a letter of nomination from their dermatology residency training director to the online application.

Deadline to submit applications for 2013 meetings is Sept. 28, 2012.

Applicants will be notified in November about the status of their applications. Please note that in recent years, several scholarship recipients have canceled their attendance due to scheduling conflicts. It is very important that prior to applying, all potential scheduling conflicts are resolved.

There are many individuals who apply for these scholarships. When scholarship recipients do not participate, it takes the opportunity away from other applicants. Individuals are eligible for either scholarship only one time during their careers.
